

COMMUNIKATE™

Complete Communications? Just Say The Word

Imagine no more lost messages, misplaced faxes, misdirected e-mails or juggling calls between your office, cell, pager and home phones. You can start enjoying complete communications convenience right away when you sign up for CommuniKate.

Intelligent speech-enabled technology turns menus into conversations with your personal assistant.

Your assistant asks you what you would like to do and you say "Listen to Messages," "Call Home," "Forward the Fax to My Friends," "Check My E-mail" or "Search My Calendar."

Toll-Free One-Number Convenience

Your toll-free number simplifies access to all your voice, fax and e-mail communications.

Your assistant will greet callers and ask if they would like to have the assistant "Find Him/Her or Leave a Message." If they choose to find you, your assistant will dial you at the contact numbers you've designated, announce who the caller is and ask if you would like to take the call or send to voice mail.

You can even choose to have your assistant call you when you have new messages waiting so you don't forget to check your voice mail.

Your Phone Book Is Just A Phone Call Away

Calling anyone in your phone book is as simple as saying a name and specifying which phone your assistant should dial. You can even synchronize CommuniKate with your PDA or programs such as Microsoft® Outlook® and Outlook® Express. Need to send a message to your group? Just say "Send Message to My Friends."

Receive Faxes Without A Fax Machine

Tired of the expense of a separate fax line – not to mention expensive paper, toner and the hassle of filing paper faxes? With CommuniKate, you can receive, view, store and forward faxes. If you're out of the office, you can forward your faxes to a nearby fax machine, to a distribution list or to an e-mail address.

Keep Track Of Your E-Mail By Phone

You can't always be at your computer – but now you can check your e-mail anytime with a call to your assistant. Your assistant will read your e-mails and allow you to reply by voice.

Schedule Meetings And Reminders

You can schedule meetings and manage your calendar, including coordinating dates and times with your PDA or computer calendar and contact manager. Need a reminder? Your assistant will call you.

Handle Conference Calls With Ease

Need to talk to a group? Your assistant will make that happen, connecting you with friends, associates, customers and more.
